Specialists in Power Generation

Edina

an EPAL company

Modern Slavery Policy

The Edina Group of companies are committed to driving out acts of modern day slavery from within its own business and that from within its supply chains. The Company acknowledges responsibility to the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and will ensure transparency within the organisation and with suppliers of goods and services to the organisation.

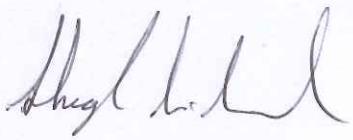

The organisational structure of the business is a privately owned enterprise that sources, assembles and transports containerised power generation units to its customers. Within the supply of the component parts there are relationships with external businesses for the sourcing of these raw materials. These as well as the suppliers of services make up the supply chains within the Edina Group.

As part of the company's due diligence process into slavery and human trafficking the supplier approval process will incorporate a review of the controls undertaken by the supplier. Imported products from sources outside the UK and EU are potentially more at risk for slavery / human trafficking issues. The level of management control required for these sources will be continually monitored.

The company will not support or deal with any business knowingly involved in slavery or human trafficking.

The Company Directors and Senior Management shall take the responsibility for implementing this policy statement and its objectives and shall provide adequate resources and investment to ensure that slavery and human trafficking is not taking place within the organisation within its supply chains.

This policy statement will be reviewed annually and published.
